EVERYTHING IS IN READINESS

FOR RESUMPTION OF WORK AT THE COLLIERIES.

Employes Will Return to Their Former Places and the Men Will Be Canvassed Relative to a Semi-Monthly Pay-Ordination of Rev. E. A. Boyl-Funeral of James Chambers-News of the Various Churches-Other News Notes and Personal Paragraphs.

Nearly everything will be in readiness for the resumption of work at the various collieries this norning, and from expressions heard among the mine workers all are anxious to again resume their labors. The mules have been taken into the mines, an abundance of cars has been supplied, and the prospects are good for full time for several months to come.

The men will be paid in November for the three days yet remaining in this month, and a canvass will be made by the companies to ascertain whether or not a semi-monthly pay

The Dodge coal storage plant at the riempton is about completed, and the surplus coal mined by the Lackawanna company will be stored in this commodious yard when there is a shortage of cars.

The public schools will be somewhat effected by the exodus of breaker boys who have taken advantage of thellay-off and attended regularly.

Saturday night was undoubtedly the busiest evening the merchants have experienced since the strike was declared. It was necessary for them to keep their doors open until midnight to accommodate the trade which floated in with loose purse strings and light hearts, anticipating a renewal of activities and a full dinner pail.

Plymouth Congregational Church.

The ordination of Rev. E. A. Boyl as paster of the Plymouth Congregational church will occur on Wednesday next. "I can find six United Verdes on the Greene Corsolidated properties. I believe the stock of the company is worth $190 a share. I will not sell mine at any price."—GEORGE A. TREAD-WELL. Walderf-Astoria, New York and Phoenix, Arizona. "I believe it is the biggest self-fluxing copper proposition in the world. We can make copper to four cents a pound and the ore bodies seem to be practically inexhaustible."—GEOLGE litebell, La Cananca, Sonora, Mexico.

"I have examined almost every great mine in the world, and, unless it be the Gold Mines of the Rand, I have never seen a more valuable mining property."—MILES W. GIBBONS, 11 Broad way, New York. "I recently visited the Greene Consolidated Mines in Northern Sonora. I had read Treadwell's report and thought he must be mistaken in some of the things be states. I found he was mistaken, but not as I supposed. He stated only half the truth. The mines are even bigger and more valuable than he has stated them to be,"—WILLIAM P. BLAM P. BLAKE, Professor of Mining Engineering in the University of Arizona, address New Haven, Connecticut, and Tucson, Arizona.

"The mines are very line indeed far beyond my anticipation. The mineral occurs under excel-lem conditions. There is a great zone of faulting and shearing extending the entire length of the property, which is thoroughly impregnated with every kind of couper ore."—ROBERT T. HILL, of the United States Geological Survey, Cosmos Club, Washington, D. C. "If found the property not only all that it has been represented but so much better that I not only congratulate myself but every other shareholder on his investment. They are by common consent the greatest and most valuable conper mines set discovered, and with proper equipment and management will yield handsome profits to the shareholders. In the light of the present davelopment of the property and the steadily increasing value of the ores as the work of opening these wonderful mines progresses, the report of Professor Treadwell of November 1st last seems modest in the extreme. Although I am a layman, I venture this remark because the development of the mines has now trached that stage that does not rejuire an expert to understand the enormous deposits and value of the ore. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment and in the independent of all who have seen the property, we have a bomanza of no small proportions. I am syfully satisfied of this that I shall not only substantially increase my own investments but I shall advise my friends to do the same thing, and in doing so I am sure I will be doing them a positive favor."—(ENERAL THOMAS II, ANDERSON, United States Attorney of the Cananess.

"Now that I have seen the mines and breatheed the beautiful invigorating air of the Cananeas, know that Dr. McCullom, of New York, whom I met at Nogales, was right when he said hat those mountains would, in the near future, be the largest and best mining camp on this con-inent."—GEORGE S.
